Founded by Mike Davidson and based just outside Philadelphia, MJD Patents has provided quality patent illustrations to major corporations, intellectual property law firms and individual inventors since 1989. ART AND TECHNOLOGY

Patent illustration is a unique blend of art and technology, requiring skill, expertise and experience. MJD Patents offers a thorough understanding not only of patent illustration but also of the specialized business behind it. We work in full compliance with all drawing standards established by the United States Patent and Trademark Office and maintain close ties to the USPTO Drafting Department.

MJD Patents is backed by 15 years of solid professional experience. We are accustomed to dealing with clients under tight deadlines and we save them time by eliminating the guesswork, turning the roughest sketches into USPTO-ready illustrations.

HOW WE OPERATE

We offer free quotations. Just fax the informal drawings for a case and indicate the time frame in which your work needs to be completed and we will fax or email an estimate. Clients may also submit work via email. You can download your formal drawings from our secure server and print them out yourself for review, or we can fax you a set to review prior to printing formal drawings. We maintain an electronic database of all cases, which is secured and backed up on a regular basis.

QUALITY AND VALUE

All patent illustration is computer-generated and meticulously proofread. Our turn-around time is among the fastest nationwide and our prices are competitive. MJD Patents does not charge extra for rush jobs.

PRICING GUIDE

There are many different factors to consider when pricing a page of patent drawings. We look at the source material carefully. Working from blurry source material takes a greater level of experience to complete than working from clean, good-quality sketches. Converting a 3D prototype into a two-dimensional patent drawing, working from CAD drawings, PowerPoint files, existing jpeg, tiff or bitmap images all require different procedures to create the final patent drawing. We also consider how many images are on the page. Generally, the more images you have, the more it will cost per sheet.

The good news: We are able to re-use existing images (if they are in good shape) and reduce the amount of time spent on each sheet. We will always try to save you time and money. The traditional hand-drawn patent illustration is generally the way to go, and we will work with you to get the job done right. If you need a quote on your job or have questions regarding your case, feel free to call us before sending any work so we can answer any questions you might have.
